Econoline Crush

Date and Time: Saturday, November 1 7:30 pm

Address: Esplanade Arts & Heritage Centre, 401 First Street SE

Econoline Crush is back—and louder than ever.

With the release of their long-awaited album When The Devil Drives, Canadian rock legends Econoline Crush return to the stage with the same raw intensity that made them a defining force in industrial rock. Led by iconic frontman Trevor Hurst, the band is bringing decades of grit, hits, and heart to fans old and new.

It's been over a decade since their last full-length album—and the wait was worth it. When The Devil Drives features nine powerhouse tracks, including the soaring 90s Brit-pop-inspired “Smashing Optimistic” and the thunderous anthem “Invincible”—both co-written with late guitarist David “Ziggy” Sigmund, whose legacy lives on in every riff.

With production from Ian Alexander Smith (SATE, Cassie DaSilva) and mixing by industry legend Jack Joseph Puig, this is the most sonically bold and emotionally honest Econoline Crush record to date. Singles like the fiery “No Quitter” and the darkly cathartic “Going Under” show Hurst at his most personal, drawing from his own battles with depression and his second career as a psychiatric nurse—a journey captured in the upcoming documentary Flatlander.

Formed in 1992, Econoline Crush broke barriers with their fusion of industrial textures and hard rock power, making their mark with hits like “Wicked” and the platinum-selling album The Devil You Know.

Now, they're taking it back to the stage—revitalized, relentless, and ready to remind you why they were never just a band, but a movement.

Don't miss your chance to witness a rock revival. Econoline Crush live—get your tickets now.

Also available:

An exclusive Meet & Greet with Econoline Crush, both a show ticket and VIP Meet & Greet ticket are required for this.

Billy Bishop Goes To War

Date and Time: Friday, November 7 7:30 pm

Address: Esplanade Arts & Heritage Centre, 401 First Street SE

Recipient of the Governor General's Award for English Drama, Billy Bishop Goes to War is one of the most widely produced plays in Canadian theatre, documenting the heroic First World War exploits of Canadian flying ace Billy Bishop.

Written by Order of Canada recipient John Gray in collaboration with Eric Peterson, the play has been the recipient of multiple awards since it premiered in 1978 and is one of Canada's most successful musical dramas of all time. Billy Bishop Goes to War continues to re-create this true war-time story for new generations of theatre audiences as it attempts to reconcile the horrors of battle with the ecstasy of flying, in the process capturing the complex but indomitable human spirit of its unlikely hero.

Billy Bishop Goes to War is a truly heart-warming, often funny, always captivating narrative of a genuine Canadian World War One flying ace. It is told through the eyes of Billy Bishop, who at the age of 21 left Owen Sound, Ontario to fight the Hun in the muddy war in Europe. While floundering in the mud with his cavalry horse, he saw a British pilot land lightly in a field and take off again — all clean, no mud — he immediately transferred to the Royal Air Force, where he was told the average lifespan of a pilot was 11 days. He signed up anyway and became one of only a handful of Canadian pilots in that war.

William Avery 'Billy' Bishop was officially credited with 72 victorious flying missions, making him the top Canadian ace in the First World War, and one of the few Canadian pilots to ever win the Victoria Cross for his daring early morning solo attack on a German Aerodrome in 1917.

The play stars actors Damon Calderwood and Chris Robson of Ace Productions, a British Columbia-based, small-cast touring musical theatre company.

The objective of Pay What You Will is to increase everyone's access to our programs, and to encourage our patrons to take a chance on new and exciting performances and/or exhibitions. As you leave, we ask that you pay the amount you wish (based on your own individual experience). You decide the price of your ticket/admission!
